The Ancient City of St Augustine, Florida - Founded by the Spanish in 1565 boasts to be the oldest continually inhabited city in the United States more information about this fascinating coastal city with an abundance of history and wonderful beaches can be found on www.getaway4florida.com

Mount Dora and Deland - Are just two of the many central Florida towns we visit searching for antiques, Mount Dora is the home to Renningers antique extravaganza more information can be found on www.renningers.com Deland and other similar sized towns in central Florida are jewels often missed when visiting Florida, they represent the history and culture not often displayed in the tourist brochures.

Savannah- They are more friendly than formal in Savannah.

Whoever you are, wherever you're from, Savannah welcomes you with true Southern hospitality, just as they have been welcoming guests since 1733. Hip and historic, robust and refined, Savannah is where you'll find amazing architecture, spooky cemeteries and rich history—along with global sophistication and fabulous food. It's where history resonates into the present day, and where memories are still being made and great antiques can still be found. www.savcvb.com

West Palm Beach “Spectacular” antique Fair - The West Palm Beach Antique and Collectibles Show is one of Florida's biggest and best antique shows. It has been running at the same location for over 18 years. Our visit takes us South along the Atlantic coast past places like Daytona, Cape Kennedy towards the Everglades and Lake Okeechobee to West Palm Beach or return trip takes us through the centre of the State to Orlando.

Orlando - What can be said about Orlando that has not already been said, however it also offers some little known gems to the antique seeker, rarely found by most visitors.

Our last day will visit one of the theme parks off your choice, Disney, Universal or Sea World before packing for the flight home the next day. I know, not an antique in sight, but you have come this close to wonderland why not step into it for just one day, believe me you won't regret it.
